A SPECULATION ON POSSIBILITIES

* * *

Sunday morning last Editor Fitzgerald and family, in their touring car, joined up the Circulation Manager and the Day Editor of the Daily News and sped west, the county seat being the objective point. Before the city limits were cleared, a miserably poor road was found, and this condition was intensified until near Mt. Ararat. The county is responsible for a part of this desert impassable mile stretch, while the city is responsible for the remainder of it. Unless a little judicious pottering is done before some more rains come it may become impassable, and will cost relatively very much more to repair than if it were done now. It is a case of "a stitch in time saves nine."

Considerable recent work on the DeLand end makes that part of the road very rough, and necessitates slow driving.

The writer could but wish for a few minutes at his disposal to speculate upon the future of the hammock and one-fine ground between the coast and DeLand. Much of it is turned over entirely so as to permit tender and succulent vegetation to spring up. In the long run this is very exhausting to the soil, for numerous vegetation which ought to be left to decay and add humus to the mould of gradually growing poorer in semi-gone timber.

In time every acre of this land—from ten to twenty-five, it may be fifty, it may be a hundred years hence—will be artificially drained and grasses and crops will flourish in it as they flourish now on the landscape where now the railroad cow browses on scant vegetation and the marsh with corrugated hide grows languidly through the sluggish streams and tangled morass. This land, cleared properly drained, and planted a few times to crop peas velvet beans, etc., things that develop the nitrogen gathering bacteria and store the soil full of the pabulum that prepare the ground for other profitable crops, would speedily be transformed into a sea of green, heart inviting to the eye.

The building of Holland was a far more difficult proposition, as it was reclaimed from the sea, and they made and now make her prosperity.

Nothing is made in vain; genius is striking the mysterious pretty fast these days. Most Velma's Countess will a sprinkle of gray hair remember what pineapple land now selling at from $400 to $1000 per acre down on U-p town Indian river could have been purchased, or bought at from $5 to $10 per acre. The peculiar soil in about Tampa, Texas now selling at $150 per acre could have been bought 25 years ago for $5 and $10 per acre. Pinelevel lands are grown three acre mahogany beauty, now and forever, and when other instance of examples similar could be cited in support of the assertion that the time is fast approaching when this land will be reclaimed and known as the rose.

Burlingame Telegraphing Typewriter May Revolutionize Telegraphy and Newspaper Work.

WILL DAILY NEWS INSTAL ONE?

A wonderfully clever modern electrical invention knocking at the door for public recognition and inviting the public with surprise funds to step in on the ground floor, is the Burlingame Telegraphing Typewriter, an invention worked out by Elmer Burlingame, a young electrician of Anderson, Ind., a native of Wisconsin.

The new invention is a small affair 10x12 and 6½ tall, a piece of machinery which is placed under your typewriter and connected therewith by certain metal bars and rights in such a way as to pick up an electrical current on the machine. The attachment is so made that when another typewriter, at any distance away, is connected by wire a message pounded off on the keys of one typewriter is repeated on paper by the other typewriter. You understand that however remote the two typewriters there may be a wire to transmit an electric current, and there must be an electric battery to generate this current.

The instrument is said to work over any telegraph or telephone wire, over cables or by the wireless ("macaroni") system.

So with the proper attachments an operator—any one who can play his fingers dexterously upon a typewriter—can sit in New York and write a letter and a machine in London or Paris duplicates the letter instantaneously. It goes one better than that: if brought within the zone of wireless instruments it will both receive and send the same message.

Here are some of the features worth noting: No expert operator is required, as in telegraphy; a "strong," even if not one of the beautiful, "home-wrecking" type can operate a perfectly, the message comes automatically and thus obviates the necessity of some one at the receiving end of the line; if no error at sending end no error at receiving end, at the typewriters at each end of the line write identically—verbatim, et literatim, et punctuatim; the words are printed in plain English—unless you are using a Dutch, a Finch or an Esperanto machine.

These instruments are to be found in the various railroads, steamships, newspaper manufactories, hotels, and what not.

The stock is now selling at 60c on the $1.00. So 60 gets a $10 share. Just how long the stock will increase in value and at what figure it will finally settle is problematical. The reader may have a better idea about that than does the writer.

H. B. Blair, a representative of the Burlingame Telegraphing Company, is in Daytona and will be here for a few days with a great deal of information for any who may be interested.

IT'S STORMY IN LISBON.

* * *

(By United Press.)

LISBON, Jan. 28.—With detachments of soldiers posted about the police are gathering in suspects by scores. King Manuel is under guard of a picked regiment.

The government is preparing for memorial service Monday for the late King Carlos.

Prince Louis is determined to break no interference by the Republicans. In the face of the most emphatic announcement by the authorities that no Republican meetings will be tolerated, the city has been placarded with calls for gatherings.

The situation is the most serious since the assassination.

IS YOUNG RULER DEAD?

* * *

(By United Press.)

TOKIO, Jan. 28.—Private messages received from Seoul today say the Imperial Emperor is dead of smallpox. The report is unverified.

Improving at Hospital.

Mrs. John Gardner, who was taken to the Post Graduate Hospital, New York last week, about the top well and her friends are now under hopeful of her recovery.

Miss Helen Neale, for some who accompanied her has returned and gives a very encouraging report.

Mrs. Royall Houghton and Miss Houghton returned Wednesday night from Jacksonville, where Mrs. Houghton had gone with the expectation of taking the Pasteur treatment for a recently received bite of a pet dog. The treatment was pronounced unnecessary, however, on the medical authorities at Jackson ville who examined the dog's head which had been sent to them for that purpose, found no trace of rabies.

GRYSTAL THEATRE SOLD ON SATURDAY TO GETTIS LONG.

* * *

No Change to be Made in the House Staff or Policy Same Manager.

The Crystal Theater, on South Boyd street was sold by its former owners, Messrs. Young & Isaacs, the latter of the week, and the change took effect on last Monday.

The purchaser was Gettis Long, of Jacksonville, who was known to this city a few years ago. The consideration was not made public.

Mr. Long will retain I. M. Sargent as manager, and practically all the same house attaches will be kept. Miss Taylor will continue as cashier while Miss Lettie Kilhurr, who came here from Frankfort, Ind., will still be the pianist. Miss Kilhurr is without doubt, about the best pianist that has ever been heard in a picture theater in this city, and her playing alone attracts many people to the Crystal.

Otto Pelltier will keep on as illustrated song artist, and E. H. Taylor as operator of the machine.

The same policy, that of pictures and vaudeville, will be followed by the new owner.

ORMOND

ORMOND, Jan. 28.—Howard Tuck has returned to Ormond, as I opened a new and tidy office in the department store of Tuck & Co.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Dix Fuller of Rockville, Mass., have taken the Pardo bungalow on Peninsula road for the winter season.

Mr. Fuller is no new comer here, and has many friends here.

Mrs. Perry and daughter of St. Louis, Mo., and Dr. Cassedy and wife of Carrol, Ill., an uncle and aunt of Mrs. Perry, are stopping at Walford Villa.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Connors and sisters, Miss Spring of Boston, Mass., are occupying the Nichols cottage on New Britain avenue.

Mr. Ketchell, one of the old residents of the town, passed away Monday night. She made her home with her daughter, Mrs. James Oxnard, where she has been confined to the house for many months. The funeral services took place at the Union church, at 4 o'clock, Wednesday. The remains now lie in the side of her husband in Riverside cemetery, Daytona Beach.

James Cornell has been spending the past week in Jacksonville attending the Grand Masonic meetings.

Mrs. Charles Fogg, who has been with her daughter, Sarah, in Jacksonville for a number of weeks, made a flying visit home for a few days, returning the next to Jacksonville.

PRELIMINARY IN PROGRESS.

* * *

The preliminary hearing of Charles Warren, colored, charged with the murder of Anna Gasper, the colored kindergarten teacher, was taken up before Justice Titus at 9:00 this morning and is still in progress.

Seventeen witnesses for the State have been subpoened, about half of which had been examined at the noon adjournment. The hearing will probably occupy the greater part of the day.

The hearing is being held in the city hall, and the large number of spectators present signifies the general interest of the public in the proceedings.

PRESENT TRIAL MAY END.

(By United Press.)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 28.—By securing three Negro jurors, who had been selected by the defense, to the Cooper-Sharp murder trial, Judge Buck today created a situation that may bring the present trial to a sudden end. After negroes the defense declare that as no juror has been seated the other eight jurors will be discharged. Judge Hart has refused to accept under advisement.

Charges will be preferred against the other jurors, and a fifth one is ill.

Governor Patterson in his inaugural address stated that he "personally assured the rewards and have adequate help" he was convinced in the assassination of Senator Carmack.

Governor Hand to will take his seat in Senate's behalf, and Hon. Hooker will probably be elected.

General Miguel Gomez, Cuba's Second President Now in Charge —Americans Depart.

SIGNIFICANT LACK OF ENTHUSIASM

(By United Press.)

HAVANA, (via New York) Jan. 28.—Cuba today began its second experiment with self government when Provisional Governor Magoon turned over governmental reins at noon in the red room of the presidential palace to General Jose Miguel Gomez, Cuba's second president.

The public park was crowded with interested spectators discussing the prospects of the new government. There was a noticeable lack of the enthusiasm which marked the previous inauguration of Governor Palma.

There was no showing of flag and no American troops marched. Magoon wished to get rid of responsibility and suggested that as soon as American control ended the Americans leave at once for the United States as the warships depart from the Cuban harbor.

THE EASTERN STAR SUPPER.

* * *

The supper given at the Masonic Hall Wednesday night by Live Oak Chapter No. 1, Order of Eastern Star, was a pleasant social event and quite a success financially, netting between $30 and $35.

The entrance hall was converted into a reception room and tastefully adorned with greens, while the banquet hall was decorated with star point effect in green over the seven tables, four of them being in purple for colors of the Worthy Matrons and Associate Matron.

A bevy of charming young ladies waited upon the table and a committee of ladies in the Eastern Star had general supervision to arrangements.

W. H. PETERS WILL BUILD.

A handsome new building is to adorn Beach street, on the lot just cleared between the Curtis and the Bonner buildings. S. H. Gove has the contract and will begin at once. The building is for W. H. Peters, a business man for one and a half years in Daytona.

The dimensions are about two stories. It is to be of pressed brick, with some exterior limestone and plate glass front. It will be an ornament to Beach street, and a credit to Daytona.

On the second floor will be four rooms, reception room, dining room, kitchen, pantry and toilet.

(By United Press.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—John D. Rockefeller, in an article appearing in World's Work today, says that it is difficult to get rich, and he illustrates his argument with his own early experience. The author rebutted the idea of Ida Tarbell, when he defends the memory of his father whom Miss Tarbell pictured as a close-dealing, nomadic horse-dealer. "I owe a great debt to the way he trained me" says Rockefeller. The first money I ever earned was for minding turkeys." He relates experiences of his high school and commercial education. He tells of his early business ventures for himself and of having borrowed money.

Sunday morning last Editor Fitzgerald and family, in their touring car, picked up the Circulation Manager and the City Editor of the Daily News staff and sped west, the county seat being the objective point. Before the city limits were cleared, a miserably poor road was found, and this condition was encountered until near Mt Ararat. The county is responsible for a part of this almost impassable mile stretch, while the city is responsible for the remainder of it. Unless a little judicious patching is done before some more rains come it may become impassable, and will cost relatively very much more to repair than if it were done now. It is a case of "a stitch in time saves nine"

Considerable recent work on the DeLand end makes that part of the road very rough, and necessitates slow driving.

Much of it is burned over annually so as to permit tender and succulent vegetation to spring up. Nothing is made in vain; genius is unlocking the mysteries pretty fast these days. Most Volusia Countians with a sprinkle of gray hair remember when pineapple land now selling at from $100 to $1000 per acre down on the lower Indian river could have been homesteaded, or bought at from $5 to $10 per acre; The peculiar soil in about Troupe, Texas, now selling at $150 per acre could have been bought 25 years ago for $5 and $10 per acre. Peaches and berries grown there are unrivaled for beauty, size and flavor. And so instance after instance of examples similar could be cited in support of the assertion that the time is fast approaching when this land will be reclaimed and blossom as the rose.

The supper given at the Masonic Hall Wednesday night by Live Oak Chapter No. 1, Order of Eastern Star, was a pleasant social event and quite a success financially, netting between $50 and $60.

The entrance hall was converted into a reception room and tastefully trimmed with greens, while the banquet hall was decorated with star point colors as were five of the seven tables, two of them being in purple the colors of the Worthy Matron and Associate Matron.

A bevy of charming young ladies waited upon the table and a committee of ladies of the Eastern Star had general supervision of arrangements.

W. H. PETERS WILL BUILD.

A handsome new building is to adorn Beach street, on the lot just cleared between the Curtis and the Barnes buildings. S. H. Gove has the contract, and work will begin at once. The building is for W. H. Peters, a business room below, and a suite of modern rooms above.

The dimensions are 26x85, two story. It is to be of pressed brick, with handsome coquina trimmings and plate-glass front. It will be an ornament to Beach street, and a credit to Daytona.

On the second floor will be three bedrooms, reception room, dining room, kitch, pantry and toilet.

ROCKEFELLER IS REMINISCENT.

Writes Of His Early Struggles And Says It Is Not Easy To Get Rich.

MADE MONEY MINDING TURKEYS.

[By United Press]

NEW YORK, Jan 28.—John D. Rockefeller, in an article appearing in World's Work today, says that it is difficult to get rich, and he illustrates his argument with his own early experience. The author rebuked the idea of Ida Tarbell, when he defends the memory of his father whom Miss Tarbell pictured as a close-dealing, nomadic horse-dealer. "I owe a great debt to the way he trained me" says Rockefeller. "The first money I ever earned was for minding turkeys." He relates experiences of his high school and commercial education. He tells of his early business ventures for himself and of having borrowed money.

W. J. BRYAN AT STETSON.

* * *

Hon. William Jennings Bryan will lecture in the splendid auditorium of Stetson University at DeLand Fla., on Saturday evening, February 6th. Mr. Bryan's friends all over Central Florida will be glad of an opportunity to hear him. The lecture will be in the splendid auditorium at Stetson, and by opening the corridors into the main building eleven or twelve hundred people can be comfortably seated within easy hearing of the speaker.

General admission, 50 cents. Reserved seats can be had for 75 cents or $1 by addressing Stetson University, DeLand, Fla.

THE JURY CAN'T AGREE.

(By United Press.)

UNION CITY, Tenn., Jan. 28—The jury in the case of Ed Marshall, charged with the murder of Capt. Rankin in the Night-rider raid last October reported this morning that they were unable to agree and were discharged.

It is understood that ten were for acquittal and two for conviction of murder in the first degree.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN TRANSFORMED FOR AUTO SHOW.

The annual automobile show in Madison Square Garden, New York, is becoming an important event and is attended by the wealthiest people in the metropolis. This year the Garden was fairly transformed for the show. Huge arches and many mirrors were used to enhance the appearance of spaciousness in the big building, and the walls and roof were decorated with myriads of electric lights.

Seabreeze News

SEABREEZE, Jan. 28.—It was Geo. Merrill vs. J. H. Jenkins in a very interesting game between professionals on the Seabreeze links yesterday afternoon. They sailed at the 9-hole, all even. At hole-1 Jenkins went out of bounds, which lost him the hole. Merrill getting a beautiful drive, which made 2-hole, and handed him on the green. The second drive was made by Jenkins for Seabreeze links, his ball carrying fully 200 yards and stopping dead. A good turn out witnessed the game. Mr. Merrill says Seabreeze links has one of the best lay-outs for golf this side of St. Andrews, and he has been in business for the past twenty-five years. Tuesday's game at Ormond was won by C. H. Jenkins.

Mrs. W. H. Fortson came over from Bowling Green, Fla., the latter part of last week to help take care of her mother, Mrs. M. V. Hart, who has been sick with a fever. Yesterday Mrs. Fortson reported her mother's condition as very much improved.

Mrs. Oyster and daughter arrived from the North Tuesday, and have leased Mrs. Stewart's cottage, on Valley street.

Dr. A. T. Bigelow and the Ayers brothers had a most successful fishing bout on the grounds below Port Orange, returning with a catch of forty sizable sheepshead.

Miss Mary J. Ware is now located at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Avenden, where she will spend the balance of the season.

Capt. Brown and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lake and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Topping, are enjoying a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman north of Ormond.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McArthur and C. P. Hussey and daughter have leased and are now occupying Madame Hall's cottage, on Flagler avenue.

Manager Burgoon, of Wilmot's opera house, is corresponding with Charles W. Hitche, with a view to securing the Motor Page Company for a date here during the races.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cook, guests at The Pizarro hotels, left for St. Augustine yesterday afternoon.

Unconcerned.

An incident illustrating the sturdiness of an officer, it may be called, of the Duke of Wellington has reference to a naval officer, a near connection of the duke. The ship which this officer commanded was lost, and he himself was drowned. When the news was communicated to the duke, he merely exclaimed, "That's the second ship he has lost!"

Hard to Please.

"Your audiences seemed shocked by the show."

"At first," answered the manager, "but we expurgated it."

"And then?"

"Then they seemed disappointed."—Exchange.

DAYTONA BEACH, Jan. 28.—J. W. Williams of the J. C. Butler real estate office, is attending to the office business while J. C. Butler is hustling for outside business this week.

Mrs. Sherman, of Chicago, Mr. Cherry's sister, is expected to arrive from St. Augustine this week, and will spend some time with her brother at the Peterson cottage, on Palmetto avenue. Mr. Cherry has purchased a lot on South Palmetto and expects to build a winter home here.

Mr. Pollard's many friends will be glad to learn that he is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. McCann have leased part of G. S. Sweney's home on Grandview avenue for the season.

W. B. Reed and friend, H. J. Watson, returned Monday from a ten days' trip to the Isle of Pines. They went by way of Knights Key and returned by way of Key West. Messrs. Reed and Watson have an investment of about two hundred acres of land on the island, and went down to investigate their claim. Mr. Reed gives a glowing account of the soil and climate and thinks it is the finest piece of citrus growing land on the globe, and growth marvelously rapid—even to one astonished to our tropical eyes. He says, however, it cannot compete with Florida until some better method of transportation is provided.

Jack Stoddard is utilizing his spare time after school hours at work for Mr. Whitehead's grocery, and is accumulating and also delivery man.

Mrs. Kimball, of Ormond, mother of Mrs. James Carnell, was laid to rest in Pinewood Cemetery this afternoon. She was buried beside her husband, a soldier from an Ohio regiment during the Civil War.

Mr. Fowler and two sons, Mr. Kirsch, Dr. Young and some others made a party of fishermen to the inlet yesterday.

Diamond Cutting.

It is said that before the fourteenth century no one knew how to cut and polish diamonds. They were esteemed for their marvelous hardness, but not greatly adorned for beauty. There is a tradition that a jeweler named Louis Van Berghem, discovered the art of cutting diamond with diamond. But it is probable that he only made some notable advance in the art since mechanisms of diamond cutters had existed in France and Flanders for some time previously. Louis Van Berghem's most famous achievement was the cutting and polishing of a huge diamond belonging to Charles the Bold. Charles was so delighted with the result that he rewarded the artist liberally and declared that the diamond would now serve him for a bedroom lamp. The jewel, which was found on Charles' body after the battle of Nancy, is still in existence and—decorated under the name of the Sancy diamond—Youth's Companion.

Seabreeze News

SEABREEZE, Jan. 28.—It was Geo. Merritt vs. J. H. Jenkins in a very interesting game between professionals on the Seabreeze links yesterday afternoon. They ended at the 9-hole, all even At hole-1 Jenkins went out of bounds, which lost him the hole; Merritt getting a beautiful drive, which made 3-hole, and landed him on the green. The record drive was made by Jenkins for Seabreeze links, his ball carrying fully 260 yards and stopping dead. A good turn out witnessed the game. Mr. Merritt says Seabreeze links has one of the best lay-outs for golf this side of St. Andrews, and he has been in business for the past twenty-five years. Tuesday's game at Ormond was won by J. H. Jenkins.

Mrs. W. H. Fortson came over from Bowling Green, Fla., the latter part of last week to help take care of her mother, Mrs. M. V. Hart, who has been sick with a fever. Yesterday Mrs. Fortson reported her mother's condition as very much improved.

Mrs. Oyster and daughter arrived from the North Tuesday, and have leased Mrs. Stewart's cottage, on Valley street

Dr. A. T. Bigelow and the Ayers brothers had a most successful fishing bout on the grounds below Port Orange, returning with a catch of forty sizeable sheepshead.

Miss Mary J. Ware is now located at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Evernden, where she will spend the balance of the season.

Capt. Brown and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Luke and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Topping, are enjoying a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman north of Ormond

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McArthur and C. P. Hussey and daughter have leased and are now occupying Madame Hull's cottage, on Pinewood avenue.

Manager Burgman, of Wilman's opera house, is corresponding with Charles W. Ritche, with a view to securing the Mable Paige Company for a date here during the races.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L Cook, guests at The Princess Issena, left for St. Augustine yesterday afternoon.

Unconcerned.

An incident illustrating the placidity, if so it may be called, of the Duke of Wellington has reference to a naval officer, a near connection of the duke. The ship which this officer commanded was lost, and he himself was drowned. When the news was communicated to the duke, he merely exclaimed, "That's the second ship he has lost!"

Hard to Please.

"Your audiences seemed shocked by the show."

"At first," answered the manager, "but we expurgated it."

"And then?"

"Then they seemed disappointed."—Exchange.

Doings at Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH, Jan. 28—J. W. Williams, of the J. C. Butler real estate office, is attending to the office business while J. C. Butler is hustling for outside business this week.

Mrs. Sherman, of Chicago, Mr. Cherry's sister, is expected to arrive from St. Augustine this week, and will spend some time with her brother at the Peterson cottage, on Palmetto avenue. Mr. Cherry has purchased a lot on South Palmetto and expects to build a winter home here.

Mr. Pollard's many friends will be glad to learn that he is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. McCann have leased part of G. K. Sweeney's home on Grandview avenue for the season.

W. B. Reed and friend, B. J. Watson, returned Monday from a ten days' trip to the Isle of Pines. They went by way of Knights Key and returned by way of Key West. Messrs. Reed and Watson have an investment of about two hundred acres of land on the island, and went down to investigate their claim. Mr. Reed gives a glowing account of the soil and climate and thinks it is the finest piece of citrus growing land on the globe, and growth marvelously rapid even to one accustomed to our tropical output here He says, however, it cannot compete with Florida until some better method of transportation is provided.

Jack Strothers is utilizing his spare time after school hours at work for the Webster Grocery, and is an accomodating and alert delivery man.

Mrs. Kitchell, of Ormond, mother of Mrs. James Carnell, was laid to rest in Pinewood Cemetery this afternoon. She was buried beside her husband, a soldier from an Ohio regiment during the Civil War.

Mr. Fowler and two sons, Mr. Kreush, Dr. Young and some others made a party of fishermen to the inlet yesterday.

Diamond Cutting.

It is said that before the fourteenth century no one knew how to cut and polish diamonds. They were esteemed for their marvelous hardness, but not greatly admired for beauty. There is a tradition that a journeyman jeweler in Flanders, Louis Van Berghem, discovered the art of cutting diamond with diamond. But it is probable that he only made some notable advance in the art since associations of diamond cutters had existed in France and Flanders from the fourteenth century. Louis Van Berghem's most famous achievement was the cutting and polishing of a huge diamond belonging to Charles the Bold. Charles was so delighted with the result that he rewarded the artist liberally and declared that the diamond would now serve him for a bedroom lamp. This jewel, which was found on Charles' body after the battle of Nancy, is still in existence and celebrated under the name of the Sancy diamond.—Youth's Companion.

The Modern Seven Wonders

Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.
One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realised that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Palmoid Halifax River.
Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verranda's looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican perch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk straggling upward with his floundering load be snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid an liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.
Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live-oaks extend their gigant arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with ofttch draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you are distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glittering leaf of the grand magnolia which natives has furnished as an artist's brush ever ready; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines running riot in the trees; see the cryptogamous flora which gain a foothold on the great oaks and the stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.
No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural ideas, and build upon them and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are monotonous rows of strikingly similar houses that the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes that rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finish and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed it is the interior arrangement and the artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that give a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as wonder number four.

Streets and Pavements the Best and Best.
Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most picturesque natural setting, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to deliver the finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all else in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways interesting, miles upon miles of drives as good as to attract motorists from all over the country.

And as for pavements, pavements that look and act like granite,—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard-of place rejects more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruits.
Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or eve callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare "goobee" there is always ready to come out and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and gnaw into the meat, meticulous, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers! Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. You are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where

Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of variegated hues perdominate, another household have a penchant for the poinsettia and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm in tons for quality and quantity per acre. There are seven of citrus groves in proximity to the city, the trees bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish.

The Fastest Autos And The Finest Out.
The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kilamanjaro or from Timbuktoo and you will be "shown." Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every recurring sunset. Autos the biggest, the fastest and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousand flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything runs, from a 2-horsepower up to a 200-horsepower, and all degrees of speed from a canter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down to your wallet only for cash for the auto and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

NEWS OF THE HOTELS

The Prince George.
Adrian Pennypacker and James Forsythe, of Albany, N. Y., arrived at The Prince George yesterday.

The Despland.
A troupe from the Actors' Child League Home of New York will give an entertainment at the Despland Thursday evening. No admission will be charged but a collection will be made.

The Stillman.
Late arrivals at The Stillman are: J. L. Angell and wife, Fargo, N. D.; J. McKilkenny and wife, J. H. McKilkenny and daughter, Chicago Heights; Mrs. H. H. Burd, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa; Jos. J. Stacey, Los Angeles, Cal.

The Ridgewood.
Among the arrivals at The Ridgewood Wednesday were: A. G. Munn, Mrs. Samuel Castleman and son Mrs. M. J. Dempsey, Louisville, Ky.; R. M. Lambert, Jr., Mrs. Lambert, Jr., Miss Bookstaver, New York; E. C. Howe and wife, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Hart, Columbus, Ga.; A. D. Brokon and family, W. J. Rockwell, Mrs. W. J. Rockwell, Omaha; R. C. Barnett, New York, H. J. Male, New York.

Bathing parties to the ocean beach are getting to be quite the thing at the Ridgewood and almost every morning a party of bathers make the trip to Daytona beach. Among the party yesterday were Dr. Silk, of New York, and E. Mariner, of Chicago.

Schmidt's Hotel.
Among the arrivals yesterday at the Schmidt Hotel were: H. P. Dunlap Watrous, N. Y.; Dr. T. N. Rafferty and son, G. A. Rafferty, Baldwin, Ill.; C. P. Lasslo, DeLand; Mrs. M. G. Coale, New York.

Manager Henry Schmidt, of Schmidt's Hotel, was so unfortunate on Wednesday as to turn his ankle, painfully crushing the same. However, Mr. Schmidt is able to be around today with the aid of a cane.

The hunting party that went out from the Schmidt Hotel several days ago has returned and a nice bag of game was brought back. Besides an unusual amount of quail and rabbits our fleet-footed friends the party as well as the bulk of the real deer. Those in the party were Ernest Kreitzberg, William Blomberg and Guido Bennett.

Hotel Palm Beach.
The Hotel Palm Beach, the large handsome hotel so prettily located by the sea and Lake Worth, is filling up with the fortune palaces and tourists who never miss this beautiful resort. It is only a short distance south of Daytona and many find it well worth their time to see the wonderful floral growth here and take in the many rides of interest such as the jungle ride, the most exciting of them all. This is like a trip through Africa. Why need "Teddy" Roosevelt, our president, go to Africa when Palm Beach has such a jungle ride. The mimic ride quickly to escape trouble on this famous ride for many a wild cat has been seen in this dark grove.

Among those now at this resort who are expecting to return to Daytona shortly are: J. E. Glass, Misses Shultz and Josephine Glass.

Gave It Up.
A friend of the writer recently made application for a public appointment in a certain Scottish town, and, thinking that his chances of success would be greater by a little judicious canvassing, he resolved to call upon a few of the town councilors, to whose hands the appointment lay. Of the civic dignitaries' position in private life he knew nothing. Accordingly he boarded a train at the railway station and requested the jehu to take him to Councilor Bissett's residence. The councilor was found at his breakfast-table's shop shoeing a horse.

"I'll see somebody of more importance than this anyhow," said the candidate to himself, and, turning to the driver, he said, "Drive me to Councilor Macintosh's office."

The ruminating thereupon drove him to the local grocer's shop. This was where even than the subtly, and he hoped to be appointed.

"Drive me to Councilor Grayer."

"I am councilor Grayer, sir," replied the unknown.

The visitor staggered the candidate. He quickly put his face and disappeared, resolved to seize his fate in their hands without prejudicing them in any way in his favor. London Standard.

The Modern Seven Wonders

Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican perch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid an liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live-oaks extend their giant arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elfish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see th climbing vines runn ng riot in the trees; see the cryptogamons forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and the stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes that rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finish and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed it is the interior arrangement and the artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that give a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as wonder number four.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the little finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting, miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for pavements, pavements that look and act like granite,—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard-of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruits.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or eve callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare "goober" there is a bunny ready to come out and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and gnaw into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers! Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. You are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where

Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of variagated hues predominate, another household have a penchant for the poinsettia and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish.

The Fastest Autos And The Finest Out.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or from Timbuktoo and you will be "shown." Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every recurring season. Autos the biggest, the fastest and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousand flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horsepower up to a 200-horsepower, and all degrees of speed from a canter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down in your wallet only for coin for the auto and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

NEWS OF THE HOTELS

The Prince George.

Adrian Pennypacker and James Forsythe, of Albany, N. Y, arrived at The Pringe George yesterday.

The Despland.

A troupe from the Acters' Child League Home of New York will give an entertainment at the Despland Thursday evening. No admission will be charged but a collection will be made.

The Stillman.

Late arrivals at The Stillman are: J. L. Angell and wife, Fargo, N. D; J. McEldowney and wife, J. H. McEldowney and daughter, Chicago Heights; Mrs. R. H. Burd, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa: Jos. J. Slaney, Los Angeles, Cal.

The Ridgewood.

Among the arrivals at The Ridgewood Wednesday were: A. G. Munn, Mrs. Samuel Castleman and son Mrs. M. J Demaree, Louisville, Ky.; R M. Lambert, Jr., Mrs. Lambert, Jr., Miss Bookstaver, New York; E. C. Howe and wife. Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Hart, Columbus. Ga.; A. D. Brokon and family, W. J. Blackwell, Mrs. W. J. Blackwell, Omaha; R. C. Harnett, New York, R. J. Main, New York.

Bathing parties to the ocean beach are getting to be quite the thing at the Ridgewood and almost every morning a party of bathers make the trip to Daytona beach. Among the party yesterday was Dr. Selik, of New York, and E. Marrener, of Chicago.

Schmidt's Hotel.

Among the arrivals yesterday at the Schmidt Hotel were: H. P. Dunlap Watertown, N. Y.; Dr. T. N. Rafferty and son, G. A. Rafferty, Robinson, Ill.; C. P. Landis, DeLand; Mrs. M. G. Cowie, New York.

Manager Henry Schmidt, of Schmidt's Hotel, was so unfortunate on Wednesday as to turn his ankle, painfully spraining the same. However, Mr. Schmidt is able to be around today with the aid of a cane.

The hunting party that went out from the Schmidt Hotel several days ago has returned and a nice bag of game was brought back. Besides an unusual amount of quail and rabbits one fine deer was shot. However, this deer will not fit that shirtwaist bagged several days ago and the party is still on the lookout for the real dear. Those in the party were Ernest Kreitzburg, William Rensburg and Guide Bennett.

Hotel Palm Beach.

The Hotel Palm Beach, the large handsome hotel so prettily located by by the sea and Lake Worth, is filling up with its former patrons and tourists who never miss this beautiful resort. It is only a short distance south of Daytona and many find it well worth their time to see the wonderful floral growth here and take in the many rides of interest such as the jungle ride, the most famous in the State. This is like a trip through Africa. Why need "Teddy" Roosevelt, our president, go to Africa when Palm Beach has such a jungle ride. One must ride quickly to escape trouble on this famous ride for many a wild cat has been seen in this thick growth.

Among those now at this resort who are expecting to return to Daytona shortly are: J. E. Glass, Misses Martha and Josephine Glass.

Gave It Up.

A friend of the writer recently made application for a public appointment in a small Scottish town, and, thinking that his chances of success would be greater by a little judicious canvassing, he resolved to call upon a few of the town councillors, in whose hands the appointment lay. Of the civic dignitaries' position in private life he knew nothing. Journeying to the town in question, he hired a cab at the railway station and requested the jehu to take him to Councillor Bisset's, the treasurer. The councilor was found in his blacksmith's shop shoeing a horse.

"I'll see somebody of more importance than this, anyhow," said the candidate to himself, and, turning to the driver, he said, "Drive me to Councillor Maitland's office."

The cabman thereupon drove him to the local joiner's shop. This was worse even than the smithy, and in despair he ejaculated:

"Drive me to Councillor Gray's."

"I am Councillor Gray, sir," replied the cabman.

The answer staggered the candidate. He quietly paid his fare and disappeared, resolved to leave his fate in their hands without prejudicing them in any way in his favor. — London Standard.

When Life Was Little Valued.

The 223 capital offenses which the old English law recognized as punishable by death did not keep down crime, and with the abolition of the death penalty for all crimes but murder crime in England, as well as everywhere else all over the world where the death penalty has been modified, increased markedly, notes the Boston Traveler.

Edmund Burke said that he could in his time obtain the assent of the house of commons to any bill that carried the death punishment.

A man's life was not very valuable in those strenuous days. If he scratched his name on Westminster bridge, if he wore a wig or false mustache or any other disguise on a public road, if he cut down a young tree, if he stole property worth more than $1.25, if he had been transported for crime and returned a day ahead of the expiration of his term of punishment, if he wrote a threatening letter, if he stole a kids from a fairy, for any and all of these things and for 200 more than these he was hanged by the neck until he was dead.

Loading Freight by Cards.

"I don't know whether the practice is still kept up in the North, but I remember how tickled I was at seeing the method used in loading goods into freight cars down in Mississippi some years ago," said a railroad man of St. Louis.

"A lot of strapping buck fellows will be on the job under the supervision of a white man, who will be boxing it down with great solidity. 'Put it aboard the king of diamonds; take this to the ace of hearts; load this on the six of spades; this to the jack of clubs,' and so on, and then you'll notice on one of the long line of freight cars backed on it some one of the fifty-two cards composing a full deck. The Negro gamblers loathes for the most part were ignorant of letters and figures, but every man of them knew the pasteboard emblems which he had often handled in games of seven up. So I went to craps is the chief diversion of the colored sports of Dixie."—Baltimore American.

Two Enigmas.

"Why don't we see men like the new artists describe?"

"I give it up. Why don't we see girls like the illustrators draw?"—Cleveland Leader-Journal.

Nut Mush News.

In the summer of 1906 an exploring expedition set out from Cook Inlet, Alaska, in an attempt to climb Mount McKinley, the highest peak on the American continent. They went by with a pack of canvas through a hundred miles of tundra and then struggled for weeks over glaciers and through terrible hardships, to emerge at last on the Chatitna river, down which they rafted to civilization, as represented by Cook Inlet.

As they came in, worn, ragged, almost dead from exposure and hunger, a tall old man strolled upshore with four white men's dogs, says Robert Dunn in "The Shameless Diary of an Explorer." They asked him the news of the world.

"Waal, yer know the news's dead," he drawled, "and the cardinals held a sort of convention and elected a new pope.

"Roosevelt he's agreed to compromise to the case of Roeshia about them murthered Jews, and some one's killed that Queen Dragon of Servis trying to jump her claim to the throne. And Roeshia's going to fight the Japs. Yis' ain't much happened this summer."

The Dolphin Cloth was so named on account of the beauty of the wood, the back of the lustrument resembling the color of a dolphin. It was made by Stradivarius in 1714, and it is considered the most beautiful object in the world. It is owned by an Englishman and is valued at £5,000.—Music Trade Journal.

Well Designed to Either Case.

It is inscribed to some young girl start out with the avowed intention of devoting her life to teaching school, and yet few people know her outside of when she comes to get married.—Youngstown Enterprise.

When Life Was Little Valued.

The 223 capital offenses which the old English law recognized as punishable by death did not keep down crime, and with the abolition of the death penalty for all crimes but murder crime in England, as well as everywhere else all over the world where the death penalty has been modified, lessened markedly, notes the Boston Traveler.

Edmond Burke said that he could in his time obtain the assent of the house of commons to any bill that carried the death punishment.

A man's life was not very valuable in those strenuous days. If he scratched his name on Westminster bridge, if he wore a wig or false mustache or any other disguise on a public road, if he cut down a young tree, if he stole property worth more than $1.25, if he had been transported for crime and returned a day ahead of the expiration of his term of punishment, if he wrote a threatening letter, if he stole a hide from a tanner's, for any and all of these things and for 200 more than these he was hanged by the neck until he was dead.

Loading Freight by Cards.

"I don't know whether the practice is still kept up in the far south, but I remember how tickled I was at seeing the method used in loading goods into freight cars down in Mississippi some while ago," said a railroad man of St. Louis.

"A lot of strapping black fellows will be on the job under the supervision of a white man, who will be issuing orders with great volubility. 'Put that aboard the king of diamonds; take this to the ace of hearts; load this on the ten of spades; this to the jack of clubs' and so on, and then you'll notice each one of the long line of freight cars has tacked on it some one of the fifty-two cards composing a full deck. The Senegambian loafers for the most part were ignorant of letters and figures, but every man of them knew the pasteboard emblems which he had often handled in games of seven up. That next to craps is the chief diversion of the colored sports of Dixie."—Baltimore American.

Two Enigmas.

"Why don't we see men like the novelists describe?"

"I give it up. Why don't we see girls like the illustrators draw?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Not Much News.

In the summer of 1903 an exploring expedition set out from Cook inlet, Alaska, in an attempt to climb Mount McKinley, the highest peak on the American continent. They went in with a pack of cayuses through a hundred miles of tundra and then struggled for weeks over glaciers and through terrible hardships, to emerge at last on the Chulitna river, down which they rafted to civilization, as represented by Cook inlet.

As they came in, worn, ragged, almost dead from exposure and hunger, a tall old man strolled upshore with four white men's dogs, says Robert Dunn in "The Shameless Diary of an Explorer." They asked him the news of the world.

"Waal, yer know the pope's dead," he drawled, "and the cardinals held a sort of convention and elected a new pope.

"Roosevelt he's agreed to complain to the czar of Rooshia about them massacreed Jews, and some one's killed that Queen Dragon of Servia trying to jump her claim to the throne. And Rooshia's going to fight the Japs. That ain't much happened this summer."

The Dolphin violin was so named on account of the beauty of the wood, the back of the instrument resembling the color of a dolphin. It was made by Stradivarius in 1714, and it is considered the most beautiful violin in the world. It is owned by an Englishman and is valued at £5,000.—Musical Home Journal.

Well Occupied In Either Case.

It is beautiful to see a young girl start out with the avowed intention of devoting her life to teaching school, and yet few people blame her seriously when she quits to get married.—Tombstone Epitaph.
